WHITE chrysanthemums and quantities of lovely fall roses against a background of trailing vines and cedars decorated the home of George Tyler Ford, at Round Hill, when his daughter, Miss Helen Ford, was married to Ezra Thomas Carter, a prominent lawyer of Gate City, and a son of C. W. Carter, of Big Stone Gap. Ropes of evergreens were held by the bridesmaids and lighted candles and white flowers were used everywhere. In the dining room yellow chrysanthemums and candles, shaded in yellow, decorated the table. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Fleet H. James, uncle of the bride, took place at half-past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Miss Daisy Lynch played the wedding march.

The bride's wedding gown was fashioned of ivory satin and trimmed in real lace. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. Ford gave his daughter away. Miss Louise Tyler Ford was her sister's maid of honor, and wore a gown of yellow messaline and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids wore frocks similar to the maid of honor made of white marquisette over white messaline. They included Misses Elizabeth Jamison Sweetman, of Fairfax; Mary Isham James, of Washington; Lucile Love James and Maria Adelaide Copeland, of Round Hill.

C. S. Carter, of Big Stone Gap, a brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were H. G. Morrison, of Johnston City, Tenn., and Charles James Ford, of Port Hope, Ontario, Canada.

A reception, followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Carter left for a Southern honeymoon. They will be at home at Gate City after December 1.

Guests from a distance for the ceremony were C. S. Carter and Miss Flora Carter, of Big Stone Gap; H. G. Morrison, of Johnston City; Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ford, of Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Ford, of Luray; Misses Elizabeth and Julia Sweetman, Miss Sallie Ford, of Fairfax; Miss Mary Ford, of Washington; Miss Maria Copeland, of Staunton, and C. J. Ford, of Canada.

TRIVIAL QUARREL ENDS IN MURDER

Shovel Is Used as Fatal Weapon in Hands of Angry Negro.

SLAYER MAKES ESCAPE

General Conference of Latter Day Saints Will Begin Saturday.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., November 15.

A trivial quarrel between two negroes of a section force of the Seaboard Air Line Railway engaged at work in Dinwiddie county, about three miles from Petersburg, yesterday afternoon, resulted in a murder. Oseha Smith and Coleman Tartell had some words and a wrestling match, and this, it was thought, ended the matter between them. Subsequently, however, as is said, Smith approached Tartell from behind and dealt him a fierce blow on the head with his shovel.

Tartell fell to the ground with a fractured skull. He was hurried to the hospital in this city, but died soon after reaching there. Smith fled, and has not yet been captured. The two men came here from North Carolina, but have been about Petersburg for some time. The murdered man was about thirty years old, and Smith is much younger. Coroner Leigh and a jury held an inquest this evening, and the verdict held Smith responsible for the murder of Day Salts.

Conference of Latter Day Saints. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Virginia will hold a general conference on Saturday and Sunday in the old Library Hall in this city. There will be four public meetings, Saturday at 7:30 P. M. and on Sunday at 10 A. M. and 2 and 7:30 P. M. Twenty-five ministers and twenty-three traveling elders of Virginia will be present. Elder Charles

J. E. Cousins, one of the best known and most successful farmers of Prince George county, raised this year 150 bushels of Irish potatoes on a quarter of an acre of land, or at the rate of 600 bushels per acre. And this was not all. The potatoes are of extra fine quality, and brought Mr. Cousins $1 per bushel. He has shown what the soil of old Prince George can be made to produce under proper cultivation.

New Bank at Carson. The new bank at Carson, in Dinwiddie county, opened for business today. It is located in a new building of its own, has a good capital, is managed by experienced business men and has the assurance of a fine patronage.

Honor to Past Councilor. Of the twenty-two past State councilors of the Junior Order United American Mechanics of Virginia, the only one who has died was G. H. Gordon, of Richmond, who passed away on September 11. He was the head of the order in 1903-'04, and was a faithful and beloved officer. At the session of the State Council in Alexandria in October it was ordered, at the suggestion of Dr. William T. Conner, of Norfolk, the retiring State councilor, that a full life-size picture of Mr. Gordon be procured and hung on the wall of the headquarters offices in Petersburg.
